

HLAA-NJ NEWS, VIEWS & DATES – DECEMBER 2015

Compiled by Joel Strasser, APR, Fellow PRSA, President-Elect and Public Information Officer, Hearing Loss Association of NJ (HLAA-NJ)

Happy, Happy

The officers, trustees, and all board members of the Hearing Loss Association of America's New Jersey State Association extend to all our members, friends, families and supporters all best wishes for a very Merry Christmas, Happy Hanukkah, Happy Kwanzaa and all other Season's Greetings as well as a Happy, Healthy and Prosperous New Year!!!!

Renewed Focus on Looping, Accessibility Highlighted at Annual Meeting, Future Agenda

With a guest speaker advocating strong measures to influence property owners, library officials and museum directors to embrace looping and accessibility, a new HLAA-NJ administration committed to improving looping and accessibility throughout New Jersey, and a NJ state civil rights director who has offered to assist, HLAA-NJ seems to be at the beginning of a more sustained campaign to provide looping and other accessibility features for various facilities across the state.

Keynote speaker Janice S. Lintz told attendees at the November 15 annual meeting that we have to act as both individuals and as a group since multiple State and Federal laws give us the basic right to demand accessibility at practically all appropriate group venues in NJ. She suggested that HLAA activists keep telephone logs of their various contacts to get the proper listening aids installed. Joel Strasser, our newly-elected president, has already moved to compile lists of potential installers, looping vendors and other looping experts and advocates, and will shortly move to ask HLAA-NJ members to suggest or nominate facilities they feel are urgently in need of looping installations. HLAA-NJ is already compiling a list of interested HLAA members interested in working on this committee, and all interested members are encouraged to contact Joel if they are interested in working on these initiatives, at joel.strasser@hearingloss-nj.org. At the same time, Joel has been in direct contact with Craig Sashihara, New Jersey's director of Civil Rights in the state administration.

HLAA-NJ is also working closely with HLAA colleagues in nearby New York to hopefully develop joint strategies and tactics as well as plan joint advocacy events. Also being considered is an accessibility directory which will eventually list and describe facilities and events with looping, captioning and other accessibility aids for people with hearing loss.

Those interested in working on various elements of the new looping and accessibility effort are encouraged to provide information on potential vendors, installers, committee members, targeted facilities to be identified for eventual contact (along with names and contact information by which to reach their respective managements). Until separate chair people are in place for each element of the looping program, please contact Joel Strasser with information for the above efforts, or until a meeting is called to provide more details of the program.

HLAA-NJ Annual Meeting in November Results In Newly-Elected Officers and Mini-Exhibition

Joel Strasser has been elected president of HLAA-NJ, effective January 1, 2016, while Dr. Ann Marie Olson was chosen as vice president. At the same time, Joleen Marsillo has been elected corresponding secretary, Wayne Roorda has been re-elected recording secretary and Judy Heimbach will serve as HLAA-NJ's treasurer. At the annual meeting on November 15, the new officers and trustees were selected for the coming year and beyond, while almost 60 attendees at this year's annual meeting were treated to a Mini-Fair exhibition of various hearing loss-related vendors and providers showcased their products and services.

Featured speakers at this year's 2015 Annual Meeting included Janice S. Lintz, CEO of Hearing Access & Innovations, a successful advocate for hearing access, who discussed strategies HLAA-NJ leaders as well as ordinary people can use to get hearing access and services. She spoke in some detail about loop systems, the currently favored low-cost method of making hearing accessibility available to large groups of citizens or residents in auditorium or group settings, and how individuals or groups can get them in their areas. Before hearing Ms. Lintz, the annual meeting group heard welcoming remarks from Dr. David Alexander, director of New Jersey's Division of Deaf and Hard of Hearing, a unit of the State's Department of Human Services.

Exhibitors at the Mini-Fair staffed display tables for their products and literature, with their internal experts and proprietors who answered questions posed by visitors and attendees. Exhibitors included:

- NJ Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing - services and resources

- NJ Division of Vocational Rehabilitation – regional agencies, services and resources
- NJ Division on Civil Rights – services and resources
- NJ Theatre Alliance/ Cultural Access Network – captioned & accessible performances/arts resources
- EmCom System - induction loop demonstration
- Sprint CapTel - captioned telephone services and demo
- CaptionCall – captioned telephone and service
- "Ask the Audiologist" – professional audiologist Dr. Ann Marie Olson was available to answer questions
- Cochlear Implant (CI) Support Group - HLAA-NJ members with CIs answered questions
- Hearing Loss Association of America (HLAA) – information, resources and events

HLAA-NJ's mission is to create awareness of hearing loss issues in the state of New Jersey. It is dedicated to developing a statewide network to address outreach, advocacy legislative and equal access issues that impact people with hearing loss.

NEWS from HLAA-NATIONAL:

ADVOCACY

HLAA Remains Committed to 100 Percent of all Cell Phones Being Hearing Aid Compatible

HLAA has worked with industry and the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) on the issue of Hearing Aid Compatible (HAC) phones. When mobile technology moved from analog to digital in the 1990s, it created a huge barrier for people with hearing loss in that suddenly people with hearing loss who could use analog wireless handsets were faced with interference when they held the newer digital phone to their ear. We reported on this in the November 6 issue of HLAA in Action (online HLAA e-News). Read the whole story.

The HLAA e-News mentioned above is a great source for breaking news as well and news from the national office. Be sure to sign up for the free newsletter here.

Video Relay Service

On November 3, 2015, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) released a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) proposing to temporarily freeze certain video relay service (VRS) rates. The NPRM also seeks comment on the following measures to enhance VRS: (1) impose a stricter speed-of-answer standard; (2) adopt a limited trial of "skills-based routing"; (3) authorize providers to use qualified deaf sign language interpreters; (4) authorize the use of at-home interpreters under certain conditions; and (5) permit the assignment of ten-digit numbers for video phones used by hearing individuals.

Comment due dates will be announced when they are set by publishing the NPRM in the Federal Register. Read the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking here.

PUBLIC AWARENESS

Hearing Tracker Survey

Based on the recommendations of a recent report by the President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology (PCAST), Hearing Tracker is conducting a survey on whether or not consumers support over-the-counter hearing aids. Check the national website for survey details.

Survey on Banking for People with Hearing Loss

The World Institute on Disability (WID) and the Hearing Loss Association of America (HLAA) are conducting a brief 10 to 15-minute survey about access to and use of banking and financial institutions for people with hearing loss. Results from this survey will be used to inform the financial and banking industry as to best practices to make information and services more accessible to people with hearing loss. No individual identifying data or characteristics will be provided to any outside agency, organization or business. All responses will be combined and no individual responses will be made available. After the completion of the study, all contact information will be destroyed. Check the national website for survey specifics.

Comments and Suggestions Welcome on an NIH Research Plan

The National Institutes of Health (NIH) is developing a five-year NIH-wide research plan to define the priorities in the area of rehabilitation research that is intended to benefit individuals with temporary or chronic limitations in physical, cognitive, or sensory function that require rehabilitation care. NIH has issued a Request for Information (RFI) inviting public comment on the priorities specified in this plan. Check the national website for specifics.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

HLAA Board of Trustee Shari Eberts' blog post "I No Longer Feel Shame about My Hearing Loss" was published by Good Housekeeping on October 31, 2015. Read all Shari's posts on her blog Living with Hearing Loss.

HLAA Board of Trustee Katherine Bouton gave a lecture on October 30, 2015, to the faculty and graduate students at the Virginia Merrill Bloedel Hearing Center at the University of Washington in the Seminars in Hearing and Communication Sciences. Her subject was "Living with Hearing Loss: Why We Need a Cure." She mentioned HLAA as one of the ways patients can get support and education about hearing loss.

On Saturday Nov 14, 2015, Katherine was on a panel at the American Doctors of Audiology convention. The subject is how audiologists gain and retain the trust of patients. One of her suggestions is that they recommend HLAA to patients and join HLAA themselves as a way of showing partnership in the overall effort to better conditions for people with hearing loss. Read Katherine's blog "Hear Better with Hearing Loss."

CHAPTERS

Have We Heard from You Lately?

The national staff is on a search mission looking for HLAA Chapters. On November 5 an email went to chapters we have not heard from asking if they were still active.

Why is this important? We get hundreds of calls here at the national office from people looking for help and support locally. We always refer them to our chapters. If we don't have updated information from you, we can't do that with confidence that you still exist and will respond to them. Plus, we want to list you on hearingloss.org so everyone can find you.

Chapters should fill out the Chapter Update form and email it to chapters@hearingloss.org. If your chapter no longer meets just drop us a note and we will send you a chapter closing form.

If we do not hear back from chapters by December 1, 2015, we will remove them from the hearingloss.org "Find a Chapter" section and mark the chapter or state association as inactive in our database. We are doing our best to ensure that we are able to truly serve people who are looking for peer support at the local level, so we have to know if you exist.

On behalf of the HLAA Board of Trustees, the national staff and members everywhere, thank you to everyone who works hard in HLAA Chapters and State Organizations on behalf of people with hearing loss.

WALK4HEARING

PCAST specifically looked at how to support older adults with mild to moderate age-related hearing loss, which affects nearly half of people over the age of 60 and has major health and social implications. The report found multiple factors that limit people's access to hearing technologies—most notably, the high cost of hearing aids, but also the challenges that consumers face in shopping for best value. PCAST recommended a few key federal actions that it believed could improve access and reduce cost, and Dr. Cassel will summarize those recommendations in the webinar. Read HLAA's response to the PCAST report on the HLAA national website.
